
Same questions before and after discussion. No round gain is significant in any of the 30 tests, even before Holm adjustment.